THE NEW CENTURY TYPEWRITER

The NEW CENTURY TYPEWRITER marks the highest development of that type of ribbon machine which uses a key for a character; its predecessor, the Caligraph, noted for its durability, introduced this popular type, and the same excellence of construction which distinguished the old machine characterizes the new.

A nicely balanced, rigid and responsive mechanism has given the NEW CENTURY an incomparably easy and elastic touch, excellent alignment, and an absence of noise in operation that is at once noticeable.

It does its work with great economy of labor and time.

CALIFORNIA LAWYER

GOES INSANE HERE.

B. R. Martin Who Arrived at the Hawaiian Hotel, September 4th, Went Insane Friday.

Night clerk B. R. Scott, of the Hawaiian Hotel, had quite an experience on Friday evening, while standing his watch.

B. R. Martin, of Santa Cruz, California, one of the guests, went suddenly insane, and had to be removed to the Police station.

Martin had shown no previous signs of going insane. Up to the last moment he seemed perfectly rational, and his dementedness was a great surprise to all the guests of the hotel.

"About 2 o'clock this morning," Mr. Scott said, when seen by a Republican reporter, last evening, "I was aroused by a violent and incessant ringing of the call bell. I went to Mr. Martin's room and knocked. I was answered by a similar knock on the outside of the door. I thought it was queer, but paid no attention to the matter at the moment. Martin seemed very undecided as to his wants. He was continually changing his mind. One moment he wanted ice water and the next moment he did not. Finally I brought him the water and returned to the office."

"I was a little puzzled at first, and the thought came to me then that the man might be a little off, but I dismissed the matter from my mind. I had not long to wait before I was again called to his room. This time Martin had an imaginary note that he wished me to take for him. The same indecision that marked his actions on my former visit, was noticeable still, only decidedly more pronounced. I returned to the office without the note, only to be recalled in a few minutes."

"This was kept up for two hours or so. At times he would answer my knock on the other side of the door. Sometimes when I approached I would hear the incessant scratching of matches."

"About 4 o'clock, I became convinced that Martin was thoroughly demented. He had been taking some drugs for his nerves and I think that was very probably what caused his downfall. I called the patrol wagon and had him removed to the station house. He offered no resistance and went very quietly. He is at present at the Insane Asylum."

Mr. Martin is a member of a California law firm and is making a tour of the Islands for his health, having arrived here on Sept. 4. His relatives and friends will be notified as soon as possible and meantime the hotel management is looking after his wants.

McANDLESS GREATS AN ADVISORY BOARD.

Says the Hilo Herald: Superintendent of Public Works McAndless yesterday appointed J. A. Scott, Sheriff Andrews, Philip Peck, E. N. Holmes and J. T. Stacker an advisory board of street commissioners to work in connection with E. D. Baldwin. The commission provided by law consists of two officials in Honolulu and the local land commissioner, Mr. Baldwin. Complaint has been made that under these conditions prompt action could not be had in the matter of street lines and this change is made in accordance with a resolution passed at the citizens' meeting Monday night.

Following is the resolution upon which the appointments were made: Resolved, That the superintendent of public works be requested to appoint a committee of five, to consist of three citizens and two board members of the Hilo road board, for the purpose of acting as an advisory committee to the government civil engineer in widening and extending the streets of Hilo.

Accused of Being Cannibals.
B. R. Martin, who was confined at the police station pending investigation as to his sanity, nearly caused a riot there while waiting for examination. He gathered the trustees around his cell and accused them of having eaten Captain Cooke. This they indignantly denied and there was quite a commotion. When they told him he was crazy he threatened to send for the battleship Iowa and have the town blown to pieces to avenge the sailor who, he said, the trustees had eaten.

Big Crowd at Orpheum.
The Orpheum was packed to overflowing last evening with a howling, cheering, jolly crowd of sports from the boat races out for a little time to celebrate the events. They had their time and those who were not enthusiastic took the noise and cheering in the spirit it was meant and although nobody paid any attention to the show, they all went away contented.

Sale of Fowler Cottages.

The Fowler cottages, one of the oldest landmarks in Honolulu, were put under the hammer yesterday. James F. Morgan was the auctioneer. About half the cottages were sold. They will be torn down to make room for other and larger buildings. The cottages sold brought $181.50. The fate of the remaining cottages will be decided at some future date.

The first Fowler cottages were put up about thirty years ago. Since then they have been added to little by little until now they number about thirty-five buildings. About sixteen years ago the last building was added to their number, and since then nothing except repairing has been done on them. About twenty-eight years the outfit was bought by old man Snyder, one of Honolulu's famous characters. Since that date they have changed owners almost a dozen times. At present they belong to M. P. Robinson and the Bishop Estate.
